CHAMBER

THE VOICE OF BUSINESS

Welcome to the One SouthCoast Chamber's 2025 Membership Directory & Community Resource Guide.

One SouthCoast is proud to present this premier publication as a reflection of our continued commitment to our members and our communities. This directory and guide highlight the exceptional resources and vibrant businesses that define our dynamic region—from Seekonk to Wareham and everywhere in between.

Inside, you will find more than 1,000 local Chamber businesses representing excellence across a wide range of industries. Research continues to show that consumers are significantly more likely to do business with Chamber members—so we encourage you to shop local and support those who invest in our region's future.

Discover the South Coast – A Region on the Rise

The South Coast of Massachusetts is no longer a hidden gem—it is a rising star. With unmatched coastal charm, arts and cultural vibrancy, and economic momentum, it is an ideal place to live, work, and visit.

Natural Beauty

The region continues to attract nature lovers and outdoor enthusiasts with its breathtaking landscapes. From the beaches of Horseneck and the salt marshes of Allens Pond to scenic bike paths and harbor front parks, the South Coast remains a haven for hiking, sailing, birdwatching, and simply soaking in the beauty of New England's coastline.

Cultural Richness

Home to world-class institutions like the New Bedford Whaling Museum, the Zeiterion Theater, and Battleship Cove, the South Coast's arts and cultural offerings continue to grow. The region hosts a thriving calendar of events—from multicultural festivals to local art walks—celebrating the diverse voices and creative energy of our communities.

Economic Opportunity

With ongoing investments in offshore wind, marine technology, and advanced manufacturing, the South Coast's economy is rapidly evolving. Healthcare, education, and tech also remain strong pillars of growth. Institutions like UMass Dartmouth and Bristol Community College are preparing the next generation of leaders and innovators, while our strategic location between Boston and Providence strengthens our regional influence.

Quality of Life

Residents continue to enjoy a high quality of life, thanks to strong schools, top-tier medical care, and a friendly, community-focused atmosphere. With walkable downtowns, lively farmers' markets, and a growing food and craft scene, the South Coast offers the perfect blend of small-town charm and modern convenience.

Strategic Location

Whether you are heading to Boston or Providence for business, spending the weekend on Cape Cod, or taking a ferry to the islands, the South Coast is a gateway to the best of New England. The addition of South Coast Rail makes Boston a convenient ninety-minute train ride away. Its central location makes it ideal for exploration, commuting, and connecting with broader markets.

Diverse & Welcoming Communities

Our region continues to thrive because of its diversity. A rich tapestry of cultures, traditions, and perspectives is woven into daily life here, creating a truly inclusive and dynamic community where everyone is welcome.

As we look to the future, One SouthCoast remains committed to supporting growth, innovation, and connection throughout our region. Our staff and Board of Directors are always here to assist you.

We invite you to contact us anytime, visit our websites at OneSouthCoast.com and VisitSEMass.com, or stop by our office to explore the full range of resources we offer.

Together, we are shaping the future of the South Coast—and we invite you to be a part of one of the largest and most impactful chambers in Massachusetts.

Sincerely,
Mike O'Sullivan
CEO
One SouthCoast Chamber

Networking

Need additional business contacts? The Chamber holds several monthly networking events so members can meet and exchange ideas, develop business relationships, and increase their professional network.

Member Discounts

Looking to increase your sales? Chamber members can take advantage of our Member Discount program offering exclusive discounts to the thousands of employees of our nearly 1,000 member businesses.

Marketing & Advertising

Need to connect with potential customers? Our marketing options such as our e-newsletter, website and monthly digital publication can position your business as a proactive business and community leader. Learn more about connecting with the thousands of employees of our nearly 1,500 member businesses.

Referrals

Looking for potential customers and leads? The Chamber can help. Each day the Chamber receives phone calls and emails from potential customers looking for businesses that can help them with specific goods or services. We can only recommend Chamber member businesses when we receive a referral request. In addition to the many telephone calls and walk-in inquiries, this year our online business directory will receive over 30,000 hits. Let us send customers who are ready to buy to your business.

Sponsorship Opportunities

Need to engage a new target market? In a traditional year, Chamber events will attract more than 10,000 attendees and nearly 1,000 decision-makers will read each edition of the Chamber newsletter. Chamber members maintain top-of-mind awareness for their products and services by sponsoring one of our highly promoted business events.

Relocation Assistance

The Chamber stands ready to assist interested parties in relocating with a full array of services and connections to incentives and acquiring a workforce.

Greater New Bedford Connecting Activities Partnership

Do you need qualified interns for temporary or seasonal positions and projects? Our Connecting Activities Partnership with MassHire gives Chamber members access to a cost-effective workforce and the opportunity to enhance your community image by contributing your expertise to the educational enterprise. Find out how you can provide meaningful internships to local high school students. The partnership with the MassHire Workforce Board is a collaborative program that connects area employers with local high school students and initiates activities such as job shadowing, mentoring, internships,

PUBLIC POLICY AGENDA

One SouthCoast Chamber will advocate for and support legislation and initiatives that improve the business climate and overall quality of life for the South Coast region, educate the membership on issues of importance and when necessary, actively work to defeat legislation that adversely affects the business community. The One SouthCoast Chamber is fully committed to being engaged on the local, state and federal levels.

The Chamber has a responsibility to its members to review pending legislation and regulations for its impact on their financial well-being and, if necessary, develop public positions that speak on their behalf.

Our advocacy efforts are designed to fulfill nine core priority areas: economic development, education and workforce, energy, public infrastructure, regulatory reform, competitiveness, healthcare, and housing.

Economic Development:

- Advocate for increased investments in regional economic development and technical assistance funding at the state and federal levels; promote a stronger sense of regionalization among cities and towns throughout the South Coast.
- Promote a positive local business climate that encourages growth, entrepreneurship and pay equity.
- Diversification of the local, state and federal economy; continued growth and advocacy centered around the base industries of the South Coast region.
- Advocate for reduced burden on businesses related to wage compression and business-funded mandates.
- Advocate for increased visibility of the region for business attraction.

Education & Workforce:

- Strengthening internship and co-op opportunities for our local high school and college students, both in an office environment as well as in the trades.
- Supporting educational opportunities and programs that provide high-quality education and resources to students.
- Promote the recruitment, retention and training needs of our workforce through continued partnerships with employers, workforce boards, educational institutions and private sector training.
- Support the expansion of access to early childhood education and care.
- Promote and advocate for quality early childhood education and development.
- Support expansion of early college options for South Coast high school students.

Energy:

- Advocate for diverse cost-effective energy policies that help retain and attract business
- Support the Offshore Wind industry as an economic driver for the region as both a staging area and supply chain.
- Support efforts to modernize the grid.

Public Infrastructure:

- Promote investments in transportation such as roads, bridges, and maritime infrastructure throughout our region.
- Advocate for State Piers/port issues at the local, state and federal level.
- Advocate for domestic commercial flight expansion and economic development opportunities at the New Bedford Regional Airport.
- Industrial, business and technology park improvements and promotion.

Regulatory Reform:

- Promote smart regulations to ensure workplace safety & protect public health.
- Promote economic development by reducing red tape and timely permitting and zoning processes
- Advocate for flexibility to allow businesses to thrive post-pandemic

Competitiveness

- Advocate for reduced taxation at the municipal, state, and federal levels.
- Raise awareness of factors that increase the cost of living in MA, such as energy, healthcare, childcare, and housing.
- Advocate to reduce the burden on employer taxes, such as Unemployment and Paid Family Medical Leave.

Healthcare

- Government must minimize health care disruptions by acting as a good business partner.
- Advocate for strong public health as it relates to both the workplace and community at large.
- Promote the continued viability and quality of our community hospitals, health centers and medical centers
- Advocate for policy that would support healthcare staffing challenges.

Housing

- Advocate for housing production and development in all communities on the South Coast.
- Encourage development of all levels of housing with a focus on workforce housing.

DISCOVER THE HISTORY, FALL RIVER

Fall River is frequently referred to as the “Spindle City.” This is because the Fall River has long been an economic catalyst within Bristol County.

Fall River was originally called “Quequechan,” which meant “falling water” to the Wampanoag Indians. The Wampanoag’s, who have resided within Bristol County for thousands of years, named the area for the small river that turned into steep falls before flowing into the Taunton River.

An abundant water supply along with access to the Taunton River made “falling river” a great place to settle during the colonial period prior and through the Revolutionary War.

By 1850, the railroad connected Fall River to Boston and New York. The result was an influx of people seeking opportunity. Driving Fall River’s early growth was a booming textile manufacturing industry founded on print cloth production.

The manufacturing of cotton into print cloth was the first major industry in Fall River. By 1880, Fall River was the leading textile city in the United States. Over 500,000 spindles produced 1/6 of all cotton capacity in New England. Fall River also produced one half of all print cloth production in the world. Therefore, Fall River became known as the “Spindle City.”

World War I sustained the print cloth industry, but the post-war economy quickly slowed. Also hurting textiles was that production had finally outpaced world demand. During the interwar period of the 1920’s, Fall River’s mills faced serious competition from their southern counterparts. The South also had the benefit of transportation and machinery investments from the North as a result of policy during the Reconstruction.

The New York garment industry was solicited to establish itself in Fall River during the period immediately after World War II. The attraction was a ready workforce and abundant mill space. An economic resurgence followed. By the mid 1940’s, nearly one-fifth of the city’s workforce was employed within the garment industry.

Modern Fall River took shape in the period following WWII. The postwar “Automobile Revolution” during the 1950’s and 1960s transformed the city’s landscape after World War II, as the federal government and Massachusetts began planning and constructing new highway networks that linked major cities, while also easing urban congestion. Several local highway infrastructure projects were erected. Most notably were the Braga Bridge, the Route 79 Interchange System (originally referred to as the Fall River Expressway) and Interstate 195.

The final phase of the waterfront reconfiguration is now underway, as focus has shifted to the construction of the $80 million Route 79 North boulevard. Route 79N is being restructured into a waterfront boulevard that will create access to approximately eleven acres of developable commercial property along the scenic Taunton River. The new scenic boulevard will also add to the quality of life for area residents by providing an enhanced multipurpose walking and biking pathway adjacent to Commonwealth Landing, Battleship Cove, the Iwo Jima (replica) Memorial and several marinas.

Another important development has been the restoration of the railway lines running along the waterfront. The once dormant rail lines have been repaired and enhanced for higher speed freight transportation. This $33 million rail and bridge investment has also laid the foundation for future tourism and commuter rail services from Boston to Fall River and New Bedford. Upon completion this $1.1 billion project will transform the southeastern region of Massachusetts.

The gates in Fall River are a replica of the original ones in Ponta Delgada, São Miguel’s capital city.

DISCOVER THE HISTORY, NEW BEDFORD

The New Bedford area possesses a history marked by wealth, prominence and prestige. The determinedly thriving city dates to the days of the pilgrims of Plymouth Colony, who first settled in the area in 1652. This region, originally dubbed Old Dartmouth, would come to know the footsteps of some very important historical figures and see the birth of many new eras.

One of the area's finest historical attractions is Fort Taber, located in New Bedford's south end. This great stone edifice was built to defend the city's port from the Confederate Navy during the Civil War and is currently open to visitors who wish to experience its history firsthand. Visitors are also welcome to pay a visit to Fairhaven's Fort Phoenix. This site hosted the first naval battle of the American Revolution, which was fought by Fairhaven militiamen. These remarkable locations provide informational tours, revolutionary and civil war reenactments and a wonderful scenic view of Buzzard's Bay.

In the mid-19th century, the ports of New Bedford were alive and thriving. In fact, the City of New Bedford was the richest city, per capita, in the world. At the peak of the whaling industry, our city's whaling ports were filled with vast fleets of whaling ships emerging from every ocean. Our ships also carried the American flag to foreign ports around the globe, with integrity and grace. Today, the city's ports still bustle with fishermen hard at work. Here visitors can take a walk along our historic waterfront, visit the Whaling Museum and Whaling National Historical Park Center to immerse themselves in the city's background.

Visitors can also absorb the stories of the Underground Railroad during some of New Bedford's famous walking tours. On these excursions, visitors will learn that the city was the site of one of the Underground Railroad's major stations. Here, Frederick Douglass became one of the great leaders of the abolitionist movement, arriving in the city in 1837 as a runaway slave. The tours will also bring you to the Mariner's Home, where Herman Melville stayed while researching his world-famous novel, Moby Dick.

By the late 1800's, the region's economy shifted to cotton textile manufacturing as the decline of the whaling industry took effect. Surpassing all in quality and quantity output of fine goods, New Bedford quickly adapted to become one of the largest producers of cotton, yarns and textiles in the county.

To serve as a tribute to the city's incredible past, Congress proclaimed 34 acres of New Bedford's downtown historical district as a National Historical Park in 1996. Thirteen city blocks now represent the city's great accomplishments and remind the world of its fruitful past. Our city's local buildings, residential and institutional, illuminate the diversity and architectural beauty of this urban national park. Whether you are visiting one of our many museums or admiring a town monument, there is a constant reminder of Greater New Bedford's important history and promising future.

The South Coast region is fortunate enough to prosper from a diverse economy.

Our business community is constantly expanding with industries including marine sciences, life sciences, manufacturing, retail, technology, agricultural and aquacultural sectors, among many others.

The region is proud to host the Acushnet Company which manufactures the celebrated Titleist and Footjoy brands of golf products that are used at the PGA and LPGA tours. Blount Fine Foods and Gold Medal Bakery, two large food manufacturers call Fall River home. Precix® is the leading maker of custom-designed elastomeric O-rings and seals that are used in the automotive, aerospace and chemical processing industries. Merrow Manufacturing in Fall River has been constantly expanding and enhancing their apparel support portfolio.

Another successful company, AFC Cable Systems, is the leading manufacturer and supplier of electrical distribution products used in commercial, retail, institutional and industrial construction. Located in Fairhaven, Brahmin Leather Works is a successful designer handbag manufacturer creating beautiful handbags and accessories that are distributed to fine department stores and boutiques across the United States.

The entire area contains substantial tourism assets and a growing tourism industry, including one of the world's most beautiful beaches at Horseneck State Park in Westport. The New Bedford Seaport continues to lead the nation as the top fishing port in the U.S. (as measured by dollar earnings).

Small businesses are vital contributors to the economic security of the South Coast area. They continue to bring new opportunity and growth to the area.

Located a mere 60 miles south of Boston and very near Providence, RI, the South Coast is within driving distance to major metropolitan airports and passenger trains. South Coast Rail is now open and offers passenger transportation from Fall River and New Bedford to Boston..

The city offers freight services by ocean, air and rail. Major cities throughout the northeast are easily accessible due to the proximity of Interstate 195.

OUR COMMUNITY

The South Coast is an area of superlatives - the tastiest seafood, the best waterways and the friendliest people. There are many interesting and unique things to explore: historic buildings and artifacts, unique structures, working waterfronts as well as many contemporary activities. Here, the quality of life and the variety of cultural, economic, geographic and educational advantages provide a progressive atmosphere rich in heritage and opportunity. Its proximity to metropolitan areas, like Boston, Providence and the communities of Cape Cod and the Islands, make this a very desirable area to live, work and play.

ACUSHNET is in the heart of apple and peach country, slightly northeast of New Bedford. Originally an agricultural community embracing the headwaters of the Acushnet River, the residential town of Acushnet has retained its rural atmosphere, while providing a home for various industries. This small, pleasant town was the site of the first two cotton mills built in Bristol County. Acushnet is also home to the oldest Quaker Meeting House in Bristol County. Built in the 1759, it is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

ASSONET is one of two villages in the town of Freetown, Massachusetts. An original part of the town, Assonet was settled in 1659 along with the city of Fall River, then a part of Freetown. It rests on the banks of the Assonet River. Bodies of water include Assonet Bay and Mill Pond. Bryant's Neck, also called Assonet Bay Shores, is a large peninsula situated between Shephard's Cove and Assonet proper on Assonet Bay. Assonet is also well known for its salt marshes. The area around Mill Pond is frequented for its herring runs.

FALL RIVER is a city in Bristol County, Massachusetts. Located along the eastern shore of Mount Hope Bay at the mouth of the Taunton River, the city became famous during the 19th century as the leading textile manufacturing center in the United States. Fall River is well known for Lizzie Borden, Portuguese culture, its numerous 19th century textile mills and Battleship Cove, the world's largest collection of World War II naval vessels. Battleship Cove is the home of the USS Massachusetts (BB-59).

MARION is a town that captures the essence and heart of New England. Located on the shores of Buzzards Bay, Marion is 12 miles east of New Bedford. During the early and mid 1800s, Marion was mainly a home for sea captains and sailors, and later became a small shipbuilding community. Today the seaside community is mainly residential; drawing summer residents to the shores of its protected harbor. For its size, the town boasts a large number of museums, galleries and other arts related facilities.

NEW BEDFORD was established as a separate township in 1787. The city of New Bedford enjoyed the reputation of the Whaling Capital of the World during the 19th Century. The transition from whaling to fishing was smooth making the working waterfront a continuous and vital part of the local economy. Today, the New Bedford and Fairhaven harbors are a home base for one of the largest fishing fleets on the East Coast and the top revenue-producing port in the nation. Sensitive to the important role it played in the nation's history, much of its heritage remains intact through thoughtful restoration and preservation efforts. These efforts are seen in the cobblestoned streets, period lighting and carefully restored and preserved whaling mansions in and around what is now the New Bedford Whaling National Historical Park.

REHOBOTH is an historic pastoral community in Bristol County incorporated in 1745. First settlement of the town was about 1652 on the southern portion of the Palmer River. The colony suffered a good deal of damage in the King Philip war but the earliest house in town, Kingsley House, built 1680, remains a part of the town. By 1704 there was an iron forge in town and by 1714 the Goff Inn was handling travelers coming through on the stage to Taunton, Providence or Newport, Rhode Island. Sawmills were established in 1747 and the primarily agricultural economy was supplemented in 1809 by the opening of two cotton yarn mills at Rehoboth Centre. One of these is thought to be the first to spin very fine cotton yarn. In the Perryville section of town, historians conjecture that Era Perry was the first in the country to manufacture bobbins for the area's cotton factories about 1850. Rehoboth retains dozens of Colonial and Federal houses and cottages and there is a remarkable number of historic houses and buildings preserved throughout the community.

SEEKONK is a town in Bristol County, Massachusetts, on the border with Rhode Island. It was incorporated in 1812 from the western half of Rehoboth, MA. Until 1862, the town of Seekonk also included what is now the city of East Providence, Rhode Island.

The earliest known inhabitants of Seekonk were Native Americans from the Wampanoag Tribe. The name Wampanoag means People of the Morning Light. This name refers to the geographical area of the tribe. Living in the East they would be the first people to greet the sun each morning. The area now known as Seekonk and Rehoboth provided agricultural and water resources with abundant food supplies.

SOMERSET was first settled in 1677 on the Shawomet lands, and was officially incorporated in 1790. It was named for Somerset Square in Boston, which was, in turn, named for the county of Somerset in England. It was once a vital shipping point, and after the War of 1812 it was one of America's chief distribution point.

Historically, the town has had a connective relationship with Fall River. Originally, Slade's Ferry ran across the Taunton River to connect the two towns since the late 18th century. In the late 19th century, the Slade's Ferry Bridge connected the two towns, from the current southern terminus of Brayton Avenue in Somerset to Brownell Street in Fall River, and was double decked, with a railroad section on the top level. The bridge was dismantled after closing in 1970 due to its rapid deterioration and its low height. The Brightman Street Bridge just to the north was opened in 1908. A new bridge, named the Veterans Memorial Bridge, was partially completed prior to a dedication ceremony held on September 11, 2011.

SWANSEA, was named for the Welsh city of Swansea, which had been the hometown of some original settlers. John Miles, the founder of the first Baptist Church in Wales, moved to Swansea in 1662/3. William Brenton had purchased the land from Native Americans. Parts of its territory were originally part of Rehoboth, Massachusetts. In 1667 the first Baptist church in Massachusetts relocated to Swansea from Rehoboth after experiencing religious intolerance there, and Swansea was incorporated as an independent town.

On June 20, 1675, the first Indian attack of King Philip's War had all 70 settlers confined to their stockade. By June 25 the entire town had been burned, although a handful of the colonists escaped to Taunton, Massachusetts. When the active war ended in 1676, the town was soon rebuilt

After the King Philip's War, many small industries, such as forges, ironworks and fisheries, opened up in the town. Many would later leave, and there remains a large agricultural sector. In the late 1890s, trolleys connected the town to Providence, Fall River and Taunton, and the town has retained a suburban residential feel. Today Swansea is well known for its retail areas.

TIVERTON, RI, is located on the eastern shore of Narragansett Bay, across the Sakonnet River from Aquidneck Island (also known as the Island of Rhode Island). Together with the adjacent town of Little Compton, the area is disconnected from the rest of the state of Rhode Island. The northern portion of the town is located on Mount Hope Bay.

In its early days, Tiverton was chiefly a farming community with some fishing and boat construction. Until 1900 the manufacture of menhaden oil, a fish derivative, was one of the primary industrial pursuits. Cotton and woolen mills were established as early as 1811, when Colonel Joseph Durfee established a spinning mill at Cook Pond, in what is now the city of Fall River, Massachusetts

In 1856, the northern part of the town was set apart from Tiverton, and renamed Fall River, Rhode Island, by the Rhode Island General Assembly. On March 1, 1862, in a case between the states of Rhode Island and Massachusetts that reached the United States Supreme Court, both Fall Rivers were made part of Massachusetts

The secret is out. The South Coast offers a wide selection of attractions, beaches, vineyards, wholesale and artisan outlets and sporting venues. The best part is that they are all easily accessible.

A must see is the World-famous Battleship Cove. Battleship Cove is home to the USS Battleship Massachusetts (BB-59). Each year hundreds of thousands of visitors are drawn to the largest collection of retired naval warfare vessels. This truly unique floating museum provides visitors with amazing hands-on access to the USS Battleship Massachusetts, the attack submarine USS Lionfish, the destroyer, USS Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., two P.T. boats and a Soviet era Russian missile boat.

Only a short walk from Battleship Cove is the Maritime Museum. Housed in the museum is an extensive collection of model ships and memorabilia from the golden era of the great ships and luxury steam liners that frequented Fall River during the height of the American textile industry. There is even a one-ton model of the Titanic on display. Also located at the door front of Battleship Cove is the Fall River Carousel. Incredibly restored to the splendor of its first days of use at the historic Lincoln Park, this century old Philadelphia Toboggan Company Carousel #54 is fully operational. A little-known fact is that the Fall River Carousel is the oldest functioning carousel of its kind in the United States. Another nearby attraction is the replica Iwo Jima and Vietnam Memorial Wall monuments that rests in the veterans Bicentennial Park on the waterfront of Fall River. The names of hundreds of veterans have been imprinted on bricks and benches surrounding the memorial.

Looking for a genuine haunted experience? The Lizzie Borden B&B/Museum has been cited by CNN Travel, Huffington Post and MSNBC as the place to go! You know the story. On August 4, 1892, a wealthy businessman and his wife were found brutally murdered in their Victorian home in Fall River, Massachusetts. The accused murderer was their youngest daughter, Lizzie, who was found not guilty. Stay at the beautifully restored Greek-revival home of the Borden family. It is now a first-class bed & breakfast with a catch. People swear that the home is haunted.

If sleeping in a haunted house is not your thing then maybe it is time to enjoy a day at the beach in Westport. Spread across nearly 600 acres of barrier beach and salt marsh, Horseneck Beach is one of the most popular recreational facilities in the Massachusetts State Forests and Parks system. Horseneck Beach is located at the western end of Buzzards Bay. It is a sandy and southwest facing 2-mile-long beach that is breezy all year round. Horseneck provides excellent wind surfing conditions, and it is a dependable respite from the sweltering inland summer temperatures. The combination of ocean beach and estuary habitat also makes Horseneck one of the premier birding locations in New England. Behind the dunes near Gooseberry Neck (a rocky headland at the eastern end of the Reservation), is a 100-site campground.

The 13,600 acres Southeastern Massachusetts Bioreserve is another amazing place. The Southeastern Massachusetts Bioreserve encompasses parts of Fall River, Lakeville and Dartmouth. It is a place where residents can hike, cross country ski and mountain bike. There are also designated areas for horseback riding and dirt bikes.

Other noteworthy day trips include the Narrows Center for the Arts, Fall River Heritage State Park, Buttonwood Park Zoo, the Whaling Museum in New Bedford and the Fall River Historical Society. Golf enthusiasts can enjoy a challenging 18-hole course at the Fall River Country Club with great views of the Taunton River and Mount Hope Bay.

There is a lot to see and explore within the service area of One SouthCoast Chamber!

TOURISM & RECREATION, NEW BEDFORD AREA

Come visit the New Bedford area and witness a community alive with creativity and vitality. Here you can walk into a local gallery and gaze upon beautiful artwork while getting a sense of our unique culture. Attending a music and art festival or other community events will allow you to experience the area's inviting atmosphere. New Bedford is rich with historic value and small-town appeal.

With over a dozen local galleries, a vast array of artwork is here for you to explore. Located in downtown New Bedford, the New Bedford Art Museum/Artworks! continues to be a popular destination for many visitors. The museum offers engaging exhibitions of artwork from around the corner and across the ocean. Located in an urban national park, the New Bedford Whaling Museum is the world's finest museum space devoted to the whaling days and the remarkable wealth that created. The Star Store gallery provides UMass-Dartmouth students with the opportunity to display their own work and view the hard work of their peers. You can experience the art and culture firsthand during AHA! night each second Thursday evening in Downtown New Bedford. Open studio tours also allow visitors to experience the variety of art that can be found in our community.

Hatch Street Studios in New Bedford is a unique studio with over 65 visual and performing artists in one location. The space offers several open studio tours, sales, and several hands-on workshops for both amateurs and professionals.

Aside from our outstanding galleries, New Bedford is bursting with accomplished musicians.

The New Bedford Symphony Orchestra, now over 100 years old, performs at a variety of venues and has quickly become a showcase of the city's musical talent. With many theatres to choose from including the New Bedford Festival Theater, Your Theater, One Theater Group and Zeiterion Theatre, there are always high-quality shows and plays to choose from.

The Zeiterion Theatre, or "The Z" as it is more commonly known, provides audiences with exceptional world-renowned entertainment. Artists that have performed at the "Z" range from Yo-Yo Ma, Joan Rivers and Lilly Tomlin to Alvin Ailey dance Theatre, Cyndi Lauper, Crosby and Nash, Wynton Marsalis and Greg Allman. To view their full schedule of events, visit www.zeiterion.org.

New Bedford Folk Festival has gained an incomparable reputation as an international folk music and arts festival. Each year a myriad of artists, crafters and performers line the cobblestone streets of the Historic District for a weekend and create a welcoming atmosphere for tens of thousands of people.

The exceptional roster of festivals in the SouthCoast region also includes the Feast of the Blessed Sacrament, Cape Verdean Recognition Weekend, Chowder Festival, Taste of SouthCoast, New Bedford Oktoberfest, Mattapoisett Harbor Days, Fairhaven Homecoming Day Fair, Acushnet Apple/Peach Festival, Working Waterfront Festival, AHA! and many more.

DINING & DESSERT

Whether you are in the mood for authentic Portuguese food, fresh off the boat seafood or genuine Italian cuisine, there is a restaurant waiting for you in the South Coast. The local Portuguese restaurants are true to their heritage and offer some of the finest cuisine around. Since New Bedford is the largest fishing seaport in the world, it is no wonder we offer some of the freshest seafood in New England.

No matter what your taste, the region has something for you to enjoy. The only problems might be deciding which hidden jewel to go to and saving room for dessert.

RANKED AMONG THE BEST

Charlton undergraduate programs rank among the top 28% of U.S. business schools and are the fourth highest-ranked among public universities in New England. Accredited by the AACSB, a distinction held by fewer than 6% of business schools worldwide, Charlton offers hands-on learning and strong industry ties that equip future leaders with the skills to thrive in a global economy.

Bristol Community College

Bristol Community College is a comprehensive community college offering more than 120 careers and transfer programs of study that lead to an associate degree in science, arts, applied sciences, and certificates of accomplishment or achievement. Since 1968 Bristol has helped thousands of learners fulfill their goals to earn a degree, access work-related training, and find additional educational opportunities.

With campuses in Fall River, New Bedford, Taunton and Attleboro a college education is never far away. Plus, Bristol offers a vast collection of online courses.

UMass Dartmouth

UMass Dartmouth distinguishes itself as a vibrant public university actively engaged in personalized teaching and innovative research. The University acts as an intellectual catalyst for regional and global economic, social and cultural development. Since 2000, UMass has been one of the fastest growing universities in New England. The main campus, designed by acclaimed architect Paul Rudolph, is located on 710 acres in North Dartmouth. Other UMass Dartmouth sites include the Center for Marine Science and Technology on the waterfront in New Bedford, the Star Store College of Visual and Performing Arts center in downtown New Bedford, a state-of-the-art technology facility for small business incubation known as the Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship in Fall River, and continuing education centers in both Fall River and New Bedford.

University of Massachusetts School of Law

On February 2, 2010, the Commonwealth's first and only public law program was established at the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth. This history-making event was made possible by a donation of assets from the Southern New England School of Law as well as the support of many citizens, civic leaders and organizers from our region, state and nation to establish the University of Massachusetts School of Law-Dartmouth. This innovative collaboration builds on Southern New England's successful quarter century record of achievement by linking the law program to UMass Dartmouth's intellectual and financial resources and creating powerful synergies with the University's expansive academic programs. UMass Law welcomes students who embody the best qualities of Massachusetts – an adventurous and innovative spirit and a disposition to use their knowledge and talent to improve the lives of their fellow citizens.

Charlton College of Business

The Charlton College of Business at UMass Dartmouth is committed to serving the needs of the business community in southern Massachusetts and the state, while creating opportunities for their students to learn, grow, and succeed. To sustain the strength of our undergraduate and graduate programs, the faculty begin with the powerful academic credentials reflected in their AACSB accreditation. This foundation lets the faculty provide graduates of Charlton who can make an immediate contribution to their work organization, but equally important, graduates who have the creative, analytic ability to help businesses and organizations meet the unknown challenges of the future.

How do you go from baking bread in the basement of your home to becoming one of the largest independent bakers in the country?

Auguste LeComte's philosophy was simple:

Start with the best possible ingredients, provide on-time, courteous service and maintain a relationship based on honesty, integrity and good will.

In business for over 100 years, Gold Medal Bakery continues to produce and transport quality bakery products to supermarkets across the country.
